2016 Annual Meeting

The Seattle Surgical Society Annual Meeting will be held on Friday, February 5, 2016 at the Hyatt Olive 8 followed by the banquet at the Space Needle.

Our approach for this year's program focuses on new hot topics offered by the surgical specialty authorities in these areas. There will be discussions on graduate medical education and the changes that could affect residency program. We invited Dr. Michael Oreskovich to share his insights on the impaired physician. Hopefully, the program will provide for some vigorous discussion from the floor.

As in the past, we will include the 3-minute resident paper competitions.

We strongly encourage you to attend and support our Society. Please consider inviting a guest to the meeting and the banquet. We will have a short program to welcome our new members, acknowledge our past presidents and introduce our incoming president.
